NORTH TORRANCE TATTLER

Long Waiting List Leads to New North Torrance Cub Pack

By ADALINE CORTEZ DA 46876

It is now a fact that Cub Pack 761-C is splitting. This seems an indication that North Torrance is not only growing in population but that we are becoming more interested in giving our children a chance to grow into happier, healthier and more useful citizens.

The list of boys awaiting entrance into the Cub Scout ranks is so long that the present Cub committee is extending an invitation to all fathers or interested persons on either side of Crenshaw to attend the next meeting and help formulate plans which will affect both packs and consequently, all the boys.

The H. R. Blacks, of 17224 Atkinson Ave., and the Delbert Alfords, of 17230 Atkinson Ave., spent an evening at the Polka Palace and came away madly enthusiastic about the dances, determined to learn more about them.

Shiny news cars in the neighborhood around belong to Jerry Allison, of 17039 Glenburn Ave., who has a beeyootiful robin's egg blue and cream colored hardtop convertible and a sleek two-tone green sedan which is proudly claimed by the James Halls, of 3433 W. 175th St.

The WSEWS of Hope Church held an invitational "come as you are" breakfast to raise money for their missionary unit.

In charge of the affair were Helen Clayton, Juanita Alford, and Ann Collins.

The Robert Richters, of 16814 Casimir Ave. are hosts to her mother, Mrs. Jeffrey Nelson of Big Pines, who is convalescing after surgery.

Speaking of the Richters, has any of you square dancing enthusiasts attended their square dance for beginners, or old-timers, on the first and last Fridays of each month at McMaster Hall?

Tomorrow they meet at 8:15.

Mrs. Mabel Schroeder, of 17026 Falda Ave., was hostess at the February meeting of the Deborah Circle, the North Torrance group from the First Methodist Church in Torrance.

Mrs. Linda Jackson, president, officiated at the meeting.

A lovely party was held for five-year-old Suzy Krumwiede, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Krumwiede, known to many in this neighborhood last Saturday.

The party had a circus theme, carried out in red and white streamers crossing the garden-like den, and in the confetti-printed cloths covering the two tables and clown dolls made of pipe cleaners and dressed in red and white suits over candy cups, a clown hat for each reveler and, of course, the gay birthday cake.

The group of 23 visited a nearby kiddieland and endured the seemingly endless circling first on boats, then on cars, then on planes, cars, and finally on the prancing horses of the carousel.

Guests from North Torrance were Lorry Gastelum, Peggy Bruce, Judy and Mike Towell, and Tina and Duke Cortez.

Another little lady with a birthday party was Ronnie Mayhew, of 17504 Ermanita Ave. Cartoons and story-telling records were thoroughly enjoyed by Nannie and Tommie Malovich, Jimmy Thistle, Ronald Henderson, Johnny Stanchfield, Lorie Gastelum, and Judy Towell.

Car Shortage Poses Problem For Policemen

You think you've got problems? Here was one staring Police Chief Whittard Haslam in the face when he came to work one day this week.

From the police department log:

"1:00 a.m.—Radio in Car 47 is out. It does not receive or transmit.

"5:00 a.m.—Generator in Car 44. Car out of service.

"6:30 a.m.—Car 47-4 jumps out of high gear. Brakes need adjusting.

"6:30 a.m.—Car 47-1, tail light out."

In addition, two of the police department's nine cars are not equipped with radios, red lights and sirens, and are unsuitable for patrol or traffic use. It left Haslam with two "good" autos.

Pvt. Thomas J. Boyd Completes Army School

Pvt. Thomas J. Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Boyd, 1924 W. 262nd St., recently was graduated from the Army's Transportation School at Fort Eustis, Va.

Boyd completed the school's railway air brake repair course, designed to familiarize him with rail brake maintenance, safety and repair.

Before entering the Army in July, 1954, he attended Narbonne High School and worked at a service station.

Thief Snatches Floor Polisher from House

Somebody ran off with his floor polisher, valued at $323, as he was getting ready to go to work, John Allen Boyden, of Long Beach, told sheriff's deputies Saturday.

Boyd said he had taken the floor polisher from his car and was getting ready to work on a house at 20706 S. Normandie Ave., when the floor polisher disappeared.

Carson Group To Meet on February 7

Members of the Carson Civic Improvement Assn. will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 7, at the Woman's Clubhouse, 127 E. 220th St.

James G. Caldwell will conduct the meeting which will feature discussions on the conditions of streets in the area, mail delivery, and a report from the health committee on the area's health center.
